SHORT ANSWER

There is no USCIS office or immigration court inside Arlington County. The Arlington Immigration Court closed in October 2022; Northern Virginia cases are heard in Annandale, and USCIS interviews take place at the Washington Field Office in Fairfax. The closest biometrics appointment is usually assigned to Alexandria. USCIS does not take walk-ins; for any office whose address was not independently confirmed on the primary agency site, always go to the address on your own notice or call ahead to confirm.

Vital records (birth, death, marriage, divorce)

Arlington does not appear to have its own birth-certificate window. A certified copy of a Virginia birth certificate comes from the state Division of Vital Records in Richmond for $15, online (VitalChek 800-255-2414), by mail, or same-day in person in Richmond (804-662-6200). A faster route: any Virginia DMV Customer Service Center (including the Arlington and Va. Square offices) sells certified birth, death, marriage, and divorce records; a $17 records search fee applies (charged even if no record is found), and birth records use form DL 81. The county's DMV Select desk does not handle this.
