How to Get a Driver's License in Fort Lee, NJ: 2026 Guide (NJ MVC)

For Fort Lee newcomers, applicants of any immigration status, and drivers arriving with a foreign license: documents, tests, fees and the North Bergen, Lodi and Paterson MVC offices.

SHORT ANSWER

New Jersey's Standard License has been open to residents regardless of immigration status since 2021: no SSN or proof of lawful status is required, and a Turkish passport alone counts as a primary (4-point) identity document. You need 6 points of ID combined, one New Jersey residency document, and an SSN, ITIN or affidavit. Fort Lee has no MVC office of its own; the closest licensing centers are North Bergen, Lodi and Paterson, all by appointment, and Wallington handles REAL ID only. New residents have 60 days to register a vehicle and get a license. The Standard License is not REAL ID compliant, so a domestic flight needs a passport or a REAL ID instead.

New Jersey Standard License: immigration status is not asked

- Open to everyone. New Jersey has issued a Standard License to residents regardless of immigration status since 2021. No SSN is required; an ITIN or, if you are not eligible for either, a notarized affidavit is accepted. No proof of lawful immigration status is required.
- A Turkish passport is enough on its own. A passport from your country of citizenship counts as a primary (4-point) identity document. A Turkish driver's license presented together with another government ID also counts as primary.
- The Standard License is not a REAL ID. There is no star on the card; since May 7, 2025 it cannot be used for a domestic flight or to enter some federal buildings, where you need a REAL ID or a valid passport instead.
- REAL ID is a separate track. It requires full SSN verification and proof of lawful presence (a passport, a green card, or a foreign passport with a valid visa and I-94).
- Most foreign licenses, including Turkish ones, cannot simply be exchanged. New Jersey has reciprocity only with Taiwan and South Korea. The knowledge-test manual is offered in English, Spanish, Chinese, Tagalog, Gujarati, Korean, Arabic, Haitian Creole and Portuguese, not Turkish.
- Visitors may drive on a foreign license, with an International Driving Permit, for up to one year.

6 Points of ID: what documents count

CATEGORY	EXAMPLE DOCUMENTS
Primary (4 points, one document)	A Turkish passport; or a Turkish driver's license plus another government-issued ID; a U.S. birth certificate; a Certificate of Naturalization; a green card (I-551); a REAL ID-compliant license or ID from any U.S. state
Secondary (one 3-point document, or two 1-point documents)	A school or college ID with a transcript from any country; an out-of-state license; a marriage or divorce certificate; a bank statement; an employer ID plus a pay stub; a high school diploma from any country
New Jersey residency document (1 required, in addition)	A lease, an electric or water bill, a bank statement, a tax document, an insurance policy, a deed
SSN / ITIN / affidavit (in addition)	An SSN is verified with the SSA; without one, an official document showing your ITIN, or, if you qualify for neither, the notarized affidavit form on NJMVC.gov

No document can be more than 3 years expired. Documents in a language other than English need a certified translation.

NOTE FOR IMMIGRANTS

- A newly arrived Turkish citizen can meet the primary-identity requirement with just a Turkish passport plus one New Jersey residency document; a U.S.-issued document is not required.
- If you want a REAL ID instead, the process is different: it needs full SSN verification and proof of lawful presence (a passport, a green card, or a foreign passport with a visa and I-94).
- If you plan to fly domestically, the Standard License is not enough on its own: get a REAL ID or carry your valid passport.

Step by step for a first license

- 1 Book an appointment at telegov.njportal.com/njmvc, choosing North Bergen, Lodi or Paterson. An appointment is required for a first license, an ID card, a permit, an out-of-state or foreign transfer, and the knowledge test.
- 2 Get your Initial Permit, valid for 2 years. You take the knowledge test and a vision test; if you fail, you can retest after 7 days.
- 3 Practice: 3 months if you are 21 or older, 6 months if you are younger, with at least 50 supervised hours (10 at night) documented on Form BA-CSD.
- 4 Take the road test; if you fail, you can retest after 14 days.
- 5 Once you pass, you receive a Probationary License.

- Transfer your out-of-state license and vehicle title or registration to New Jersey within 60 days of your move, or before your current license and registration expire, whichever comes first.
- If you hold a current, valid, unrestricted license from another U.S. state, the knowledge and road tests are waived; you receive a 4-year New Jersey license and surrender your old one.

Common mistakes

- Miscounting the 6 points: a Turkish passport alone gives 4, so you still need 2 more points from a secondary document.
- Showing up at North Bergen, Lodi or Paterson without an appointment.
- Going to the Wallington office for a first license; it is listed for REAL ID work only.
- Confusing the New Jersey residency document with the 6 points of ID; it is a separate requirement.
- Trying to use a Standard License, instead of a REAL ID or a passport, for a domestic flight.
- Missing the 60-day deadline for an out-of-state transfer.
