Las Vegas Official Offices Directory 2026: Court, Passports and Which Door

Nevada's only immigration court is in this city and passport access is the widest in this series. But this guide's real job is another one: setting out which service comes from the city, which from the county and which from the state.

SHORT ANSWER

In this city readers really do travel, because Nevada's only immigration court is here and passport acceptance points are plentiful. Three expensive mistakes up front. First, at the court: window filing runs in a single continuous period, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Some courts in this series split the day into three separate windows; do not carry that warning here. Second, in the same place: the court does not make unsolicited faxes and electronic submissions part of the record and discards them without notice to the sender. Third, on passports: a driver authorization card is not accepted for a passport application, while a standard Nevada license is treated as primary identification. And the backbone of this guide is this: which door you use depends on your address, because in this valley the postal name does not show jurisdiction.

The immigration court

ITEM	DETAIL
Court	The only immigration court in Nevada, in this city
Address	110 North City Parkway, Suite 400, Las Vegas, NV 89106
Telephone	702-458-0227
Open	Weekdays, closed on federal holidays; may close unexpectedly for inclement weather or another emergency
Public and window hours	7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., one continuous window
General e-mail	LasVegas.Immigration.Court@usdoj.gov
Asylum work permit clock requests	Asylum.Clock.Las.Vegas@usdoj.gov. Include the name, alien registration number and why the clock should be adjusted. The court states this mailbox is only for those requests and that it will not respond to anything else
Faxes and electronic filings	Not accepted unless court staff or the judge specifically asked for them. Unauthorized transmissions are not made part of the record and are discarded without consideration of the document or notice to the sender

Parking and transit	The court's own text: a privately owned garage nearby at 3.00 dollars per half hour , with one hour of validation offered by a restaurant immediately in front of it. The rest matters: parking and public transportation are very limited in this area
Building access	A guard escorts visitors from the entrance lobby to the fourth-floor courtroom lobby, and visitors check in at the fourth-floor guard station. All electronic devices must be switched off before entering the lobby
Security	Magnetometer and bag screening on every visit; shoes, hats and sunglasses may have to be removed ; no food or drink except as the judge permits; cameras and recording devices prohibited
Hearings	Open to the public, and in the court's own words you do not need to notify the court in advance of your visit
Checking a case	acis.eoir.justice.gov (with your A number) · 1-800-898-7180

FIVE RULES FOR GOING TO THIS COURT

- Do not send a fax. The court's own wording is that faxes and electronic submissions are not accepted unless staff or the judge specifically asked for them, that unauthorized transmissions are not made part of the record, and that they are discarded without consideration of the document or notice to the sender. Faxing a time-limited filing gives the same result as not filing at all.
- Do not treat the parking line lightly. Paying in half-hour increments is an open-ended cost, because you cannot know how long a hearing will run. Bring a means of payment and do not plan another appointment for later that day.
- We suggest no transit route. The court writes that parking and public transportation are very limited around its own building, and we are not putting a route on top of that sentence. We publish no distance figure either, because none came from a source.
- Switch your devices off before entering the lobby and check in on the fourth floor. That is the building's own procedure and it applies on every visit.
- If you have no lawyer, assume the hearing will be in person. The agency's own note says the default hearing medium for people without a representative of record is in person in every case. A remote hearing is a possibility, not a right; the judge decides.

Which court hears your case: here the answers line up, but the rule stands

- The federal administrative control list ties a case to jurisdiction, not to distance. It sorts which cases a court may control by the federal office that issued the charging document and by named detention facilities.
- In this city the two records point the same way: the Las Vegas entry names the federal office here and its sub-offices, along with almost every custodial facility in Nevada. So for someone living here, court and geography usually line up.

- But the list does not say one thing: it does not say that any of those facilities holds a detention contract. The list says where a case is controlled from, and nothing more.
- The rule does not change, and it has one sentence: read the notice you were sent. It names the court and the address. The position is different in the north of the state and we set that out in our Nevada guide.

The agencies whose addresses we do not publish, and why

- USCIS: the agency's pages were closed this round both to direct access and to automated reading, and the archive service was entirely offline. We do not publish an office address from an old archive. What you do need is the difference between office types: a field office conducts interviews, an application support center takes fingerprints and a photograph, and they are not the same place. You do not choose the center; the I-797C notice states which one. Appointments are free, Contact Center 1-800-375-5283; any intermediary site charging for an appointment is a scam.
- Do not assume the center nearest your postal address. In this valley the postal address and the jurisdictional boundary do not line up; whichever center the notice names is the one. We also could not verify that there is a separate asylum office in Las Vegas.
- Immigration enforcement and customs: no office address, telephone number or name appears here. Confirm reporting locations on the agency's own check-in page; if you hold an appointment notice, the address on that notice is the one that counts. Detention information line 1-888-351-4024.
- The offices that correct I-94 errors made at entry: we could not verify the location or hours in Las Vegas; read the list on the agency's own page and write first, travel second, because some of these offices open only a few hours a week. They correct errors made at entry only.
- Social Security Administration: we could not verify a single Nevada office from an official source this round. Which office covers you is set by your ZIP code; ssa.gov/locator, general line 1-800-772-1213. Nevada has no office that issues a number or anything that stands in for one.
- Federal tax agency: we could not verify which Las Vegas office performs ITIN document review and we publish no address. Confirm the office and appointment through the agency's own locator; the appointment line is 844-545-5640.
- Do not confuse the three agencies, and the court says so itself: the immigration agency and the enforcement arm sit in the homeland security department, while the court is a separate body under the justice department. The court will not answer what you asked the agency, and the agency will not answer what you asked the court.

Which service comes from which door: the backbone of this guide

The hotel and casino corridor the world knows as Las Vegas is inside no municipal boundary at all; it is the unincorporated area of Clark County. The break point is Sahara Avenue, and the county writes it in its own text: most residents living south of that avenue are not within a city boundary and receive their traditional urban services from the county rather than from any municipality. The table below is what that means in practice.

SERVICE	INSIDE THE CITY LIMITS	IN THE UNINCORPORATED AREA
Zoning, building and business licensing	The city	The county

SERVICE	INSIDE THE CITY LIMITS	IN THE UNINCORPORATED AREA
Code enforcement and neighborhood complaints	The city	The county
The sewer bill	The city	Separate on the county side
Reporting a problem	The city's own app and code lines	Fix It Clark County
Policing	The same regional department	The same regional department
License, registration, insurance, emissions	The state agency	The state agency
School district	One district county-wide	One district county-wide
Marriage license and birth certificate	The county	The county
Transit	The regional authority	The regional authority
Electricity and gas complaints	The state regulator	The state regulator
Water complaints	The county commission	The county commission
Refuse complaints	The local business license department	The local business license department

THREE LAYERS, ALL TRUE, NONE OF THEM THE SAME THING

- The administrative fact, stated flatly: the corridor lies inside no municipal boundary. Two independent official sources say so: the county's own prose, and the county's own mapping service. When the municipal layer of that service was queried, a downtown address returned the name City of Las Vegas while corridor addresses returned an empty field. The control test is decisive: it is not that the field is never populated; there genuinely is no municipality there.
- The county's own town name, with a qualifier: in the county's own map data this area appears as the unincorporated town of Paradise, with Winchester at its northern end. The county's prose does not give those two names; our only source is the map layer, which is why we write it this way rather than flatly.
- The statistical layer, which is the trap itself: another layer of the same service calls the same points Las Vegas, and so does the envelope. The postal name is for delivery, the statistical layer is for counting, and jurisdiction lives in the municipal layer.
- The reverse is also true and should not be corrected: downtown, around the old street, really is inside the City of Las Vegas, and the state historic park carrying the city's name really is in this city, on its founding site. The municipality is not an imaginary counterpart; it simply may not be the counterpart for the place the reader has in mind.
- The unincorporated towns have no mayor, no council and no municipal court. They have appointed advisory boards only; the county's own document states that those boards cannot issue a permit or impose a fine, and that all official governmental decisions are made by the Clark County Board of County Commissioners. That board is your political counterpart.

Passports: plenty of acceptance points, but take the hours from the agency

First the distinction: an acceptance facility can be a post office, a county clerk, a library or a university counter, and it takes a routine or expedited application and sends it on. A passport agency is for urgent travel and is an entirely different thing. Everything below is acceptance facilities only. And the useful fact in this city is this: take the hours from the agency, not from the federal data file, because the county clerk's counters work in windows that do not appear in the federal file at all.

ITEM	WHAT THE AGENCY PUBLISHES ON ITS OWN PAGE
Government center counter	500 S Grand Central Pkwy, Las Vegas, NV 89155. Appointments Monday to Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.
Marriage license counter	201 E Clark Ave, Las Vegas, NV 89101. By appointment: 7 days, 8:15 to 10:00 a.m. · By appointment: Sunday to Thursday, 3:15 to 7:45 p.m. · Walk-in: 7 days, 8:30 to 10:00 p.m.
County processing fee	35 dollars ; cash, credit card, check, money order or cashier's check. Checks not made out to the county clerk are not accepted
The federal fee and the cash trap	The federal application fee is paid only by check, money order or cashier's check , made payable to the U.S. Department of State ; cash and credit cards are not accepted . So at one desk there are two fees, two payees and two payment rules
What they will not do	No renewals . The agency writes that it receives many calls about renewals, that it does not provide the service, and that renewals run by mail only
Identification, and this is the critical line	The agency's own sentence: a standard Nevada driver license bearing the notation that it is not for federal official use is accepted as primary identification ; a driver authorization card is not accepted for a passport application
Booking	Appointments are released up to 15 days in advance . The agency's advice: if nothing is showing, do not call, check every day . Cancellations on (702) 671-0600
Photos	Both counters have a photo booth: 14.99 dollars, credit card only , two 2x2 inch photographs. Arrive at least 20 minutes before your appointment. The agency's own warning is that an unacceptable photo is the most common reason appointments are rescheduled
Children	Every child needs their own passport whatever their age and the child must be present ; both parents or guardians are asked to attend. Sixteen and seventeen year olds with their own ID may apply alone, though the agency still recommends a parent attends

- The late and walk-in window at the marriage license counter is the widest passport access we have found in this series and a real difference for a reader who cannot take a weekday off. But the same counter does not do renewals and will not take the federal fee on a card. Do not go without a check or money order.

- Library branches are acceptance points too. The Windmill and Rainbow branches work by appointment; Rainbow's published window is Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday 2 p.m. to 6 p.m., by appointment only. The Sunrise branch's federal record carries no note and no link, so call before you go. One record's opening-hours field appears corrupted; do not set out on the strength of that line.
- A counter of the southern Nevada health district is also an acceptance point and its own note says it offers photocopying. The university runs its own passport office, by appointment, weekdays 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., inside the student union building. Several post offices are acceptance points, booked through the postal service's own scheduler.
- A recorded conflict: the federal file gives one ZIP code for the government center and the agency's own page gives another. Use the agency's own ZIP for the agency's own building; we record the conflict rather than resolving it.
- We publish no fee. We could not read the federal passport fees from the agency's own page this round; read current amounts on the Department of State's fee page. The county's 35 dollar processing fee is a separate item.
- We do not name a nearest passport agency. The Department of State's agency list could not be read by any route this round, so we give no name, no address, no hours and no distance figure. Read the list on the department's own page. Do not pay any site that charges you to book a passport appointment.
- Which cases must be in person: first-time adult applicants, children under 16, anyone whose passport was lost, stolen or damaged, and anyone whose passport was issued before they were 16 or is more than 15 years old. Renewals go by mail.

Local cooperation: what it says and what it does not, in the same breath

THE DOCUMENT WE RELY ON IS A MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING, NOT THE TEXT OF A STATUTE

- The source warning comes first: the state statute text could not be read by any route this round. The backbone of the lines below is a federal memorandum of understanding of 26 September 2025, signed between the justice department and the governor's office and published on the department's own site. Where it characterizes a statute, that characterization is the parties', not the statute's text. We print no statute number and quote no statutory text.
- What the document says: on 4 June 2025 the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department rejoined the federal 287(g) program. That department polices the City of Las Vegas and the unincorporated areas of the county. What it does not say: the model and scope of the agreement could not be verified. A 287(g) agreement is not a general power to stop people and ask about status, and the scope varies by model; we do not describe the scope.
- Federal funding: the document records 895,889.60 dollars of federal funds for that department to enhance capabilities for intelligence collection and information sharing with federal partners, approved 8 August 2025. Whether the work was completed could not be verified, and a funding allocation says nothing about any individual's case.
- Two senior state officers have taken opposing public positions: the governor declared the attorney general's model policies non-binding and the attorney general's office is reported to dispute that. We print the conflict and take no side. A bill about schools was vetoed on 5 June 2025 and did not become law; it is the veto that was verified.
- What could not be verified: the federal agency's own participant list could not be read, so we have no current, agency-sourced status for the department in this city. We do not write that there is none. A challenge to the agreement is reported to have been filed and to be on appeal, known only from news reporting; we do not predict the outcome. Even the signing date is disputed between sources.
- Do not use these lines to decide where to live. Choosing a neighborhood or a county on the strength of them buys you no outcome and gives you either false comfort or false fear. Ask a lawyer about your own position. The detail is in the state law section of our Nevada guide.

Free and low-cost legal help

ORGANIZATION	WHERE AND HOW	ITS LIMITS
Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada	The main door in the south and in this city: 725 E. Charleston Blvd., Las Vegas, NV 89104, (702) 386-1070 , and (702) 386-1059 for hearing-impaired callers. Its immigration arm is the Immigration Advocacy Project; published topics include know-your-rights material, family preparedness planning, status, law enforcement and detention and bond, schools and employers, parole in place for military families, violence against women act petitions and the crime victim visa	We could not read its eligibility criteria this round. We publish no income limit or status requirement and we promise no representation; apply and find out. Its site also carried a notice about a street closure for construction beside the main office

ORGANIZATION	WHERE AND HOW	ITS LIMITS
UNLV Immigration Clinic	Inside the law school. In the clinic's own words it serves three groups: unaccompanied children in removal proceedings, detained adults in removal proceedings, and certain members of the university community. The line for the first two groups is 702-895-3000 , weekdays 10:00 to 15:00	Its own sentences: all our services are free and we never charge a fee , and immediately beside it, our capacity is limited and we cannot guarantee that we can help everyone. This is not a general immigration advice line
What the court itself provides	The agency publishes self-help material and an online court resource explaining what happens at a hearing and how to prepare	General information, not representation

We found no state board, council or program specific to Türkiye, and no Turkish association in this city whose activity we could verify from its own site. We do not say there is none; we say the research did not find one. There is also one door we are not sending you to: a federal memorandum of understanding records that the state's office for new Americans stopped certain legal-help referrals, and the office's own site never opened this round, so we could not verify its current position.
